

As the Operations Manager of a small market radio station in charge of our "on air" sound, I would really wish the FCC would reconsider it's thought of recording on air programming. First of all, I don't know how we would do it. And being in small market radio, unless the FCC provides the equipment, I don't see how our station will be able to afford it. Our station relies on local programming... in fact, our positioning statement is...KCHI, Today's News, Yestedays Music." All of our programming involves not just music... but most importantly, information that the local public wants to hear. Please talk to some small market broadcasters to get a feel of what we are dealing with.
